

Family Medicine Physician – Broomfield, Colorado

The Opportunity: Broomfield Family Practice is an independent and entrepreneurial-minded group practice of six physicians and six advanced practice providers seeks a physician to join an established primary care clinic. The current group of physicians are family medicine and board certified. This position offers high income potential with full partnership options within 18 months. Work/life balance is fundamental to all associates and physicians in the group.

Our practice is a member of the independent practice association (IPA), PHPprime. PHPprime provides wrap-around services to help make our practice successful, including care coordination, practice transformation coaching, risk adjustment coding education, population health management, data and analytics, specialist network management, and large group contracting. This support allows you to spend more time caring for patients and helps you effectively manage population health and achieve performance goals.

As a PHPprime physician member, you maintain independence while having strong partnerships with hospitals and specialty providers. You also have opportunities to contribute to IPA decisions and innovative solutions for quality care delivery, connect and collaborate with peers, share best practices and participate in educational meetings.

The Community: We are located between Denver and Boulder, CO and close to great biking, hiking and various entertainment venues. This community is touted as one of the best destinations in Colorado to raise a family and is recognized nationally by Forbes as one of the top places to move in the country.
