Outpatient Internist – South Denver Suburbs

The Opportunity: Littleton Internal Medicine Associates is a well-established independent group practice of three physicians and four advanced practice providers seeking a board certified internal medicine physician. Work/life balance is fundamental to all associates and physicians in the group. Clinic quality scores are some of the highest in the region.

Our practice is a member of a larger group of six independent primary care practices called Colorado Physician Partners. Our practice is also a member of the independent practice association (IPA), PHPprime, which provides wrap-around services including care coordination, case manager/social worker support, population health management and large group contracting. This support allows you to spend more time caring for patients and helps you effectively manage population health and achieve performance goals.

As a PHPprime physician member, you maintain independence while having strong partnerships with hospitals and specialty providers. You also have opportunities to contribute to IPA decisions and innovative solutions for quality care delivery, connect and collaborate with peers, share best practices and participate in educational meetings.

The Community: We are located in South Denver on the border of Highlands Ranch and Douglas County. This community is one of the best destinations in Colorado to raise a family and is recognized nationally by Travel and Leisure, Money and Forbes as one of the top places to live in the country.
