About Pagosa Springs Medical Center

Pagosa Springs Medical Center has an attractive facility in a scenic town. PSMC is an independent, patient-centered facility, which opened its doors in 2008. The medical center operates both a hospital and an outpatient rural health clinic. PSMC is licensed for 11 inpatient beds and has board certified physicians caring for patients via our level IV trauma center. PSMC offers a range of specialty services including, oncology, infusion, general surgery, orthopedics, cardiology, neurology, gastroenterology, and otolaryngology. PSMC has on-site diagnostic imaging including CT, mammography, and MRI together with an on-site radiologist and access to Colorado's largest team of tele-radiologists. PSMC offers a 24/7 emergency department, EMS/ambulance, physical therapy, respiratory therapy and lab. Our outpatient clinic is attached to the hospital and was built in 2016; the clinic has 32 exam rooms for primary care services, behavioral health, and our specialty clinic services.

About Our Community

Pagosa Springs is not only a wonderful place to work, it is also a wonderful place to live and raise a family. Pagosans are warm and friendly people, proud of their community and proud of their medical center. The Pagosa Springs area boasts great public schools in addition to a variety of alternative education options available. The region offers numerous recreational opportunities, especially for lovers of the outdoors. Wolf Creek, known for the "most snow in Colorado," is just 24 miles away and is surrounded by trails for snowshoeing, cross-country skiing, and snowmobiling. Hiking, biking, ATV riding, hunting, boating, fly-fishing, and kayaking opportunities abound in the warmer months. Pagosa Springs is home to the world's deepest geothermal hot spring and is located one hour east of Durango, CO and a short drive north of the New Mexico state line.

It would be our pleasure to have you visit us at Pagosa Springs Medical Center, so we can provide you with additional information about our exemplary critical access hospital, adjoining rural health clinic and the wonderful Pagosa Springs community! For more information about this opportunity,
