Curriculum Extras

Non-rotational months for interns

- The purpose of these two months is to provide each intern an opportunity to experience all aspects of his or her training in a short, intense period of time. The end result of this experience is a class that knows each other better and who gains greater confidence during their intern year.
- Residents have the opportunity to spend time and gain experience in several different clinics other than the FMC. Some of the opportunities include OMM clinic, sports medicine and international medicine.
